In France about one-third of the population can neither read nor write.

Five expert whisky gaugers have been sent to Newport News to expedite the shipment of bonded whisky from that port to the Bermudas.

The thirteen votes of Mason in the Louisville Convention were cast solidly for Col. Jones for Governor and Capt. J. R. Hindman for Lieutenant Governor.

An army of caterpillars took possession of a railroad track near Bird's Point, Ark., and stopped the train. The woods along the road for miles have been stripped clean by them.

P. W. HADWIN, the present Attorney General; James R. Tate, Treasurer; Fayette Hewitt, Auditor, and Prof. J. D. Pickett, Superintendent of Public Instruction, have been re-nominated by the Louisville Convention.

The town of Wilmington Del., not long ago passed a law levying a tax of $1 on each of the Western Union telegraph poles within the city limits. The company refused to pay the tax and the town council has directed that they shall be cut down if the tax is not paid within a specified time. There seems to be no good reason why telegraph poles should not be taxed like other property.

The Washington Post says that about the first of June the great exodus of the usual summer "inspections" will begin. Even the Service Reform Commission is about to inaugurate reform by starting out to appoint "examining boards" at different places. It is a low order of inventive capacity which any high-priced official possesses, who is unable to devise a plausible pretext for inspecting something at the public cost during the heated term.

There is a decided decrease in railroad track laying for the first four months of this year. The figures are 1,450 miles for 1882 and 2,300 for 1883. The decrease is said to be owing to the backward spring, but there may be other reasons in a more conservative policy. The States and Territories which lead in the construction are: California, 170 miles; Utah, 156; New York, 115; Pennsylvania, 93; Montana, 86; Idaho, 85; Arizona, 84; and Missouri, 73. The estimated railway building for the year is 8,000 miles.

It is estimated that the Florida Ship Canal, for the construction of which a company has just been formed, will cost thirty million dollars. Of this sum twenty-six million is said to have been subscribed, and engineers are to commence the survey at once. The proposed route will leave the St. John River about twenty miles above Jacksonville, and thence on a direct line as nearly as possible to the Suwannee River, on the Gulf of Mexico, making a tidalwater canal of less than 100 miles in length, and deep enough to float the largest ocean steamers from ocean to Gulf.

HON. J. PROCTOR KNOTT, the Democratic nominee for Governor of Kentucky, was born near Lebanon, Ky., August 29, 1830. He removed to Missouri 1850 and was admitted to the bar in 1851. He was elected to the lower House of the Legislature of Missouri in 1857 and served until 1859 when he resigned and was appointed the Attorney General of the State, an office to which he was subsequently elected. In 1862 he returned to Kentucky and began the practice of the law at Lebanon in 1863, and was later a member of the 40th, 41st, 44th, 45th and 46th legislatures. His public record is a sound and consistent Democratic record which will do honor to the State as a magistrate.

The Secretary of the Navy has lately advertised for sealed proposals for the construction of three new steel vessels, for which the money was appropriated by the last Congress. Among the bidders is a firm at St. Louis which proposes to build them at its yards in that city. The firm maintains that in high water the Mississippi is navigable for vessels of the heaviest draught and it is anxious to secure the contract not only for the profits it may produce, but in order to prove that a cruiser of the dimensions required can be built at St. Louis and taken to the Gulf with no difficulty whatever. Not a great while ago, a Government training ship of much less tonnage than the proposed cruisers, entered the jetties, at the mouth of the Mississippi, and attempted to steam up to St. Louis but it never got there. It had a long and painful experience with snags, sand bars and low water. For a time it was a serious question as to whether it could ever be got back to the Gulf again. The water at that time was what was called "high" and the impossibility of using naval vessels of any considerable size on the Mississippi was satisfactorily demonstrated. The attempt has never been made since. It is hardly probable that the Government will care to experiment with the St. Louis bidders.

The Platform.
The platform of the convention at Louisville was reported by Ex-Governor McCreary and was adopted unanimously. It is as follows:

Resolved, That the Democracy of Kentucky, in Convention assembled, re-affirm our unaltered confidence in and affection for the principles and policy embodied in the organic and laws of the Democratic party adopted at the National Democratic Convention held at St. Louis in 1876, and ratified at Cincinnati in 1880.

Second.—That, believing the highest security of a popular government depends on the intelligence of the people, we declare it to be the duty of the Legislature of this Commonwealth to foster a wise and efficient system of public schools.

Third.—That our laws in relation to the revenue and taxation should be so framed as to secure equality in the rate of assessments, as nearly as possible, and to insure the collection of revenue in the most convenient, inexpensive manner.

Fourth.—That a Convention to amend our present State Constitution should be called, as soon as practicable under the terms of law, in order to bring our Constitution in line with the progress of the age.

We favor the development of the resources of the State by friendly legislation, inviting capital and immigration from abroad.

We send words of cheer and congratulation to the Democracy of the Union, on the magnificent prospects of victory in the next Presidential election, and we assure them that, as heretofore, the old guard of the Commonwealth will be at the front of the battle for the right for the good of the whole people of our Republic.

The supply of pig-iron in the country is largely in excess of the demand and this is conceded to be the reason for the depression in the pig-iron business. Not even the prohibitory protectionists have been able to devise a plan to keep the furnaces going and prices up in the face of an increasing surplus and a diminishing demand.

An English solicitor, well known as a connoisseur in art, recently bought a portrait for $25, which he thought amazingly cheap at the price. The next morning a gentleman in clerical costume waited on him and said he had been commissioned to attend the sale to buy that identical portrait for a member of the family, but that he had missed the train. If the lawyer would oblige him he was willing to give $50, or even $125 to a local charity. The legal gentleman had his suspicions aroused and remained obdurate, and after a series of fruitless appeals the white tie was cast on one side, and the stranger confessed that he was a picture dealer and willing to give $1,250 for the chef d'oeuvre. The lawyer's opinion of the picture dealer in masquerade was expressed in emphatic language, and thoroughly discomfited, the pseudo clergyman shuffled off. The picture is said to be worth $7,500.

IT WAS ASKED FOR.

The Extradition of Sheridan, Walsh and Tynan—The British Minister Guarded.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The report telegraphed from New York concerning the extradition of Sheridan, Tynan and Walsh has some foundation. One of the attaches of the State department, familiar with the entire business, yesterday stated that so long ago as two months the British Government did demand the extradition of Sheridan, and on that demand, following the provisions of the treaty of 1842, a warrant was issued by the State Department for the arrest of Sheridan, Tynan and Walsh, not for extradition, but for examination, with a view to ascertain whether or not the evidence against them justified their delivery to the British authorities. The responsibility in damages for the arrest is thrown entirely upon the British authorities. The arrest of Sheridan, Walsh and Tynan for examination is probable. The British Minister has instructed all British Consuls in the United States to arrest Tynan, against whom it is claimed there is overwhelming evidence of complicity in the Phoenix Park tragedy. There is not so much certainty about the guilt of Sheridan and Walsh, and they are permitted to go free for the present.

The British Minister having been threatened with personal violence, in consequence of the reports that warrants for the arrest of Sheridan, Walsh, and Tynan have been issued, a guard of twenty men is held in readiness at the arsenal to repair at a minute's notice to his residence. The guard is in relief, so that it may be ready day or night. The disposition has been very quietly made, but will stand until the question is settled.

An Iron Strike Imminent.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 18.—The iron situation is unchanged. Interest is increasing, however, as the date approaches for the presentation of the scale to the manufacturers for their signatures. President Jarrett said last night that they would present last year's scale next week, and if it was not signed by June 1, a strike would certainly take place, as the association would make no concessions, and the manufacturers are equally determined and positively assert that the scale will not be signed, unless the workmen submit to a reduction.

COUNTY POINTS.

MAYSLICK.

Big dinners are now in order during the big meeting.

We had some frost last Tuesday night. The DAILY BULLETIN comes to us this week unharmed. It is becoming a very popular sheet.

James Huff, of Carlisle, stopping at the Stonehill House again this week.

We would state for the benefit of our Helena correspondent, that the late emigration has been so large from this place to the east, that our potato crop is greatly in need of help, and we are offering liberal prices for good hands. Several have applied, from Helena, but not bringing good recommendations were rejected. None but first class men need apply. Come over Sauchy.

Strayed, a black and white heifer two years old, one-half Jersey. Any information will be thankfully received by J. A. Jackson, Maysslick, Ky.

White & Ort, of Maysslick, delivered a carload of furniture to the Clary home this week.

Several of our colored population are taking the DAILY BULLETIN.

The meeting at the Christian Church is still going on with some interest and ten thousands up to the present writing. Elder Gilbert returned home Thursday evening, to attend to some of his flock and returned here Friday morn'g. He will remain over Sunday. Let all come out and hear the gospel.

Dr. H. L. Parry's new brick residence is being pushed forward to completion.

H. C. Hawkins, of the Evening has been stirring around among us for a few days past.

We are needing rain badly in this section just now.

Hired Help.

Much has been written and many different plans proposed as to the best and most economical plan of hiring necessary help about the farm. The old saying, "if you want a job half done, send; if well done, go yourself," is very applicable at the farm, but, alas for human endurance! there are times when on an ordinary farm no one man can begin to keep up with the work to be done, and the farmer is obliged to look to some one else. On many of the larger farms only two, and many times three or four, hands are kept busy all the year around, and especially is this the case where much stock is kept, and where it is the rule to feed all that is raised on the farm and sell the products in condensed forms. Where this is the case hiring by the year is best, as by that means you are not expecting a change at the end of every month, your help gets better and better posted as to your way of working and manners of feeding and attending to your stock, while the help, knowing he is sure of his place, takes more interest in his work and is better satisfied and will look more to the interest of his employer than if he were only working by the month. He soon understands what is required of him, and is better prepared to perform his part.

On large farms where help is required continuously the surest and most reliable help is obtained by having men with families, turning them with a small, comfortable house and a garden patch and paying them by the year. Laborers of this class are, as a rule, better content, less likely to want to change, and more trustworthy, and they will look more to their employers' interests, as they know that their living and that of their families depend upon the faithful performance of their work and the success of their employers financially.

Day help is generally the dearest of all, as the laborer demands higher wages where he works by the day than if he is working by the month or year. Then he has no interest except to put in the time as easily as possible, as he has no assurance of anything further when night comes, hence he does not accomplish as much as if employed permanently. Then, generally speaking, the class who go around working by the day are those who have not been able to secure work by the month or year—generally the poorest of the laboring classes as regards ability and willingness to work. This is not always the case as circumstances sometimes compel the best of hands to be working by the day. A good, reliable hand can generally obtain steady work with very little trouble, and if he has a reputation for doing good, honest work, he will find very little difficulty in securing work by the year or month.—Cor. Rural New Yorker.

Deadly Weapons.

A detective frightened a young man nearly to death yesterday. The young man was standing on the corner when the detective tapped him on the shoulder and said: "I shall have to arrest you for carrying deadly weapons." The young man turned pale, and his lips quivered, and he stammered out that he never carried a revolver or a knife in his life. "Yes," said the detective, "that may be all right, but look at your shoes." The young man looked at his pointed, tooth-picked-toed shoes, and asked what was the matter with them. Then the detective told him the shoes were so sharp at the toes that if he should get mad and kick a man he would split him wide open. Then the detective winked, and said: "You may go this time, but don't let it occur again."—Leek's Milwaukee Sun.

The Gambler's Dread.

It is said the greatest dread of a gambler is that he will be paralyzed. They nearly all expect to die from a shock of some kind. It may come from the fact that a great many of them have gone that way. If a man with a withered arm or leg should happen in a gambling house the dealer would quit his chair. Another dread of gamblers is a man who comes in to play with a cane in his hand. That is regarded as bad luck to the house.

"Gracious, Sybilla, how Count Champignon sneezes; he is unaccustomed to our climate; go and tell him to come away from that window." The Count was a delicate looking little fellow with an enormous enowment of capillary decora on his upper lip. Sybilla, whom her mother men-a-ly reserved as a sweet matrimonial boon for the Count, moved toward him at a Chicago center, and archely attracting his attention by a sharp thrust in the ribs, exclaimed: "Count, I've got a message from ma to you." "Ah, zat is so vera kind," he murmured, with a gaze of admiration at Sybilla, who continued: "Yes; she says if you take off that mustache and put it on your head you won't be so apt to catch cold."—Chicago Times.

SATURDAY EVE., MAY 19, 1883.

THE RACES ARE AT AN END.
The boys have had their sport,
So let our worthy Justices,
Step out and hold their court.
And Monday when they gather in
With wise and solemn faces,
Let's hope that each and everyone,
Has had his fill of races.

THE Flemingsburg Times-Democrat kindly says: The Maysville DAILY BULLETIN has been enlarged to six columns to the page. It is creditable to its publishers and to the city.

ONE of our observing citizens has suggested to the BULLETIN that the reason the trotting races were not a success, is that there are not enough church members in Maysville to sustain an Association.

A NEW public school building for the use of the primary department is to be built at Aberdeen, on Main street, opposite the Methodist Church. An advertisement for proposals to erect the structure will be found elsewhere.

THE change in the time schedule of the Kentucky Central goes into effect next Monday. Hereafter the Lexington express will arrive at 9 a. m., and leave at 12:30 p. m. The Lexington accommodation will reach Maysville at 7:50 p. m. and depart at 8 a. m.

By the time a man dodges the paint on the front door, the wash bucket in the entry, the lounge in the sitting room filled with cuspadores, pictures, window curtains, etc., a bucket of lime in the back yard, and the broom stick for daring to intrude at all, he is a fit subject for the sympathy of all mankind.

MR. S. SALOMON, on Thursday, by invitation, visited the school room of Miss J. R. Parke, for the purpose of hearing the pupils read and speak the German language. He informs us that they use a pure German accent and are remarkably well advanced. He was much entertained and considers Miss Parke a careful and entirely capable teacher.

To cook asparagus: Scrape clean and cut in pieces one inch long. Put all in two quarts of water, in which a half tablespoonful of salt has been placed. Boil until tender. When done, place on toast, and pour over the whole a gravy made of one pint of milk, seasoned with salt, pepper and butter, and thickened with flour stirred in cold water.

THE Sunday night lecture at the Christian Church, by Rev. A. N. Gilbert, will take up "The Wide-spread Sin of Stealing," as its theme. The following is a syllabus of its diversions: Thefts of commerce, of the professions, from the State, of the stock and grain brokers, of the social circle. These will all be treated in the lecturer's usual independent and practical manner. W. H. Tiller, pastor of the Mayslick church, will preach in the morning.

MR. JOHN E. BLAINE, who has been the Internal Revenue Collector of this district for the past ten years, has sent in his resignation to the Department, to take effect on the first of next July. He has been an obliging and efficient officer, whose work has rated high at Washington, and has from time to time received complimentary notices from the Government. Mr. Blaine will remove to Peoria, Ill., and engage in the book and stationery business with Mr. E. D. Nute. His friends in Maysville wish him success and will part with him with regret.

THE RACES.

Last Day--Fine Weather and Large Attendance--Excellent Sport--Sotham Takes the Purse in the 2:40, and Alexander Wins the Prize in the 2:19.

A GLORIOUS DAY FOR THE FIELD.

The closing day of the spring meeting of the Maysville Trotting Association, although threatening in the forenoon, was all that could be desired. When the races came round, a gentle breeze blew off towards the river banks the dust that was thrown in the air by the fleet flyers. "Old Probs" was determined to do all in his power to help the association out of its financial embarrassments. No one could complain of the attendance because the largest crowd of the week was present. The vast amphitheatre being comfortably filled with as fine and gay an audience as ever witnessed a race.

The race in the 2:40 class was not above the average, as Sotham, the favorite in the pools had it all his own way from the word "go" in every heat. The only excitement in this class was caused by the struggle between Castinara, Raynard and Tom Coons for second place. It was a fierce struggle between Castinara and Raynard, the latter, although he got off well in every heat, didn't seem to have the strength to hold his place in the finish. He had to content himself with third money, Castinara coming out second in the first and third heats and taking second money. The two Wilkes, Minnie and Bonnie, were of no account at all, being distanced in the first heat, the judges, however, letting them for some reason finish the race. Sotham won the purse in this class in three straight heats, and lowered his record to 2:26 1/2. This black stallion is a noble looking animal, resembling in a marked degree in color, size and motion the famous Alexander. He is a Kentucky horse, being owned by Mr. Alex. Lewis, of Louisville. From present indications Sotham will surely rank among the fleetest trotters ere long. It was the contest in the 2:19 class that roused the enthusiasm of the audience to the highest pitch. In the pools the night before the bay mare Minnie R. was a hot favorite, selling for $10, Deck Wright was second choice, bringing $5, Ewing $4, Alexander and Troubadour in the field, which had a slow sale at $2. No one seemed to have any doubt that Minnie R. would carry off the prize, if any one had taken Alexander, or Troubadour night before, as first choice, he would undoubtedly have been "laughed" out of the room. The knowing ones knew, of course, just how it was going, and put up big money on their favorite Minnie R. When Troubadour came in winner of the first heat the faith in Minnie R. was not shaken. Deck Wright won the second heat and still Minnie R. sold as the favorite, bringing $10, Wright $8. In the two first heats Alexander had behaved badly, in the first quarter both times, and coming in last on the first, and fourth, on the second heat. When the horses were sent off in the third heat, one of the blacks took the lead, by several lengths before the first quarter was finished. Most everyone thought at first, that it was Troubadour, but soon could be heard on every hand. "It's Alexander," "look at Alexander. 'Did ever you see the like' &c. &c. It was indeed a grand sight. Alexander was the noblest looking animal in the crowd, and he never left his feet from the word "go" till the heat was finished. Wright struggled hard, but seemed frustrated by the black stallion's success, and broke into a run several times in his effort to get out of the dust left in the trail of that animal. Alexander won the heat in 2:21.

Minnie R. was still the favorite in the pools. In the fourth heat Alexander led from the start, and in a smooth, even but fleet gait finished the heat in 2:20 1/2 amid the shouts of the spectators. Wright contested this heat, wonderfully from the beginning to the end, but his efforts to recover the lost ground were futile. The fifth of the knowing ones in Minnie R. was now shaken and "hedging" was the order of the hour. Minnie R. dropped to $5. Alexander sold for $10, Wright $8. The crowd were in a terrible muddle and Alexander, who had sold the night before for $1, now brought "big money." The fifth heat was a repetition of the fourth, and when Alexander went under the wire, winner of the purse, the shout that went up from the audience must have made the noble animal's heart beat with pride.

THE Republican's tables are not to the point. We made no complaint as to the apportionment of the city advertising in 1882. We claim that it has not been "justly and equitably apportioned" in 1883. If the Republican thinks otherwise it is invited to produce the proof, or stand convicted of "gobbling."

A CORRESPONDENT of the Manchester Signal writing from Concord says: Our town can boast of having published the first paper printed in Lewis county, "The Concord Pioneer of Progress," published in 1805, by Holderness, a few copies of which are kept as relics, by Burns.

ALTHOUGH the races this week attracted to our course some of the most celebrated trotting horses of the country, and the meeting was one of rare interest, we regret to say it was not a success financially. The Association have left nothing undone to make their meetings equal in interest to any held in the United States, and are much discouraged that their efforts have not been appreciated. At present it seems doubtful whether another meeting will be held by the Association.

The Station House Shooting.

John Moore, the colored man alleged to have been shot and seriously wounded at the station house, recently, received no injuries beyond a slight scratch on the neck, and has made no complaint against Deputy Marshal Browning, the officer charged with doing the shooting. The particulars, as we have learned them from officer Browning, are as follows: Moore, who is a very powerful man physically, was drunk and resisted arrest. Browning had gotten him into the center cell and was in the act of transferring him to the end cell, when Moore slammed the iron door upon Browning's fingers, and at the same time exclaimed: "G-d-d-n you, I've had enough of you," and seizing him by the throat pushed him back against the wall. Browning tried to call for help, but was so choked he could not do it, and being unable to resist Moore, he drew his pistol and fired, inflicting a slight scratch on Moore's neck. Marshal Browning says that he is ready to answer to the charge in the courts whenever a complaint is made against him.

When they sold goods C. O. D. they collected and appropriated the money to their own use. Tutts and Foster were caught in the act by the detectives, and they implicated Cumming. They began their speculations on May 9, and continued them. The loss to the firm is believed to be quite considerable.

MADEIRAN LABOR Recommended to Be Introduced in the Southern States.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Consul Du Pont de laune, writes to the State Department recommending the Madeiran peasant for labor in the Southern States. He says that Madeira is one of the most densely populated districts in the world, having a population of 430 to the square mile, and that they would make excellent laborers for the South. Large numbers are going to Honolulu to work the sugar plantations, getting $16 per month, with food and lodging for a man and family. The people there, he says, would prefer coming to the United States to going to the Sandwich Islands. The moment, he thinks, is especially favorable just now, as the crops have been bad and many are anxious to obtain employment.

The Louisville Convention. LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 18.—In the State Convention balloting is now going on for minor State officers. Little interest is taken and many delegates have gone home. James R. SIMMONS' MEDICATED WELL-WATER.
A Specific for Dyspepsia and Diseases of the Kidneys.

HAS been used with most gratifying success in many obstinate cases. Prof. F. W. Clark, professor of Chemistry at the University of Cincinnati says this water "belongs to the same class with that of the Allegheny Springs, of Virginia," the medicinal virtues of which are too well known to be stated here. Those who desire to try this famous water are referred to Captain C. W. Boyd, Levanna, Ohio; Captain C. M. Holloway, Cincinnati, Ohio; J. J. Ralpe, Cincinnati, Ohio. For sale in half barrels and jugs by GUS. SIMMONS, Proprietor, Aberdeen, Ohio. m23d&wtv

31 Second St. Vicroy & Lee.
1883. SCROFULA
and all scrofulous diseases, Sores, Erysipelas, Eczema, Blotches, Ringworm, Tumors, Carbuncles, Boils, and Eruptions of the Skin, are the direct result of an impure state of the blood. To cure these diseases the blood must be purified, and restored to a healthy and natural condition. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has for over forty years been recognized by eminent medical authorities as the most powerful blood purifier in existence. It frees the system from all foul humors, enriches and strengthens the blood, removes all traces of mercurial treatment, and proves itself a complete master of all scrofulous diseases. A Recent Cure of Scrofulous Sores. "Some months ago I was troubled with scrofulous sores (ulcers) on my legs. The limbs were badly swollen and inflamed, and the sores discharged large quantities of offensive matter. Every remedy I tried failed, until I used AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, of which I have now taken three bottles, with the result that the sores are healed, and my general health greatly improved. I feel very grateful for the good your medicine has done me. Yours respectfully, Mrs. ANN O'BRIAN," 148 Sullivan St., New York, June 24, 1882.
